Pearson VUE

Amede Anku-Roberts has been with Pearson VUE for 14 years, working across roles ranging from software specialist to technology solutions consultant, to her current position as Business Development Manager. In her time with the company, she has developed a solid understanding of the technical aspects of computer-based testing, supporting test-owners in meeting their business goals and helping them to diversify their programs. Amede has built strong, long-standing relationships with clients across a range of industry sectors.

Amede remains committed to guiding test-owners through the changing requirements around high-stakes test delivery, identifying opportunities for her clients as well as helping them navigate through the inevitable challenges. Her knowledge of the assessments landscape ensures that Pearson VUE's test partners keep pace with the speed of change around the way we live, learn and work, while maintaining the integrity of computer-based assessments.
